- Product Description
- Pet owners live with the daily reality of fur on every surface. This is designed specifically to handle pet hair without clogging, solving a problem they have struggled with for years.
 - Zero clog technology is the ultimate selling point for pet owners who have burned out regular vacuums. Mention it at the counter, and they will lean in immediately.
 - Pet specialty stores cater to a customer base already investing heavily in their animals. Someone buying premium beds and daily lint rollers is the obvious target for this vacuum.
 - A full accessory kit included in the box serves as a massive value differentiator. Buyers appreciate finding everything they need upfront, removing buying friction.
 - Property managers and Airbnb hosts running pet friendly locations represent a high volume market. They need a reliable, professional grade solution and shop strictly for function over price.
