Product Description

- Your customers already invest in serums and clinic visits.
- The DermaPro lets them maintain those results at home between appointments.
- LED therapy has moved from clinics to the mainstream.
- Customers who once viewed this as a specialist treatment are now actively looking for an affordable at home version.
- Clients who have experienced and loved in clinic LED facials are the easiest sell.
- They want the convenience of doing it at home on their own schedule.
- The striking mask design drives in store curiosity. Every customer question creates an opportunity to explain the benefits and close the sale.
- Corporate buyers view this as a premium, thoughtful gift. It delivers a high end perception at a highly profitable margin for you.
