Product Description

- Customers wanting to switch to an electric toothbrush are not waiting to be convinced.
- The rechargeable format removes objections about ongoing battery costs.
- Shoppers who previously avoided electric brushes due to expensive maintenance instantly see the Clean 3D as a smarter, cost effective choice.
- Pharmacies and dental clinics have a highly targeted audience. Someone buying floss, toothpaste, or whitening strips is already focused on oral health, making the Clean 3D a natural upgrade.
- Hotels and serviced apartments buy these to upgrade in room amenities. A high end toothbrush elevates the guest bathroom experience and signals a luxury property that cares about small details.
- Gift buyers love health products that feel thoughtful but not overly personal. An electric toothbrush hits the sweet spot: it is highly practical, considered, and feels like a luxury people rarely buy for themselves.
